

FEDERAL BANKS HAVE BIG DECREASE DURING LAST YEAR

Paper Secured by War Obligations Shows Decline

DEPOSITS TAKE DOWNWARD TREND

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Holdings by federal reserve banks of paper secured by government war obligations declined from nearly 1,500,000,000 at the opening of the year 1,141,000,000 on December 31, said the annual review issued tonight by the federal reserve board.

"At the end of the year," it added, "out of a total of 2,719.1 millions of discounted bills about 42 per cent was composed of paper secured by United States war obligations, against 67 per cent of a total of 2,231.2 millions held on the first Friday of the year."

The gold reserve, according to the review shows little change at the end of the year as compared with the condition 12 months earlier. Although considerable gold was exported to South America and to the Orient early in the year it explained gold shipments from England in anticipation of the maturity of the Anglo-French bonds on October 15 were responsible in a measure for a subsequent recovery so that on December 30 the amount was only 3.3 millions below the total shown on January 2.

Increases in capitalization of existing banks and accessions of new members were responsible in part for an increase in the paid-in capital of the federal reserve banks during the year from $7.4 to $9.8 millions, this corresponding to an increase of over 411 millions in capital and surplus of member banks.

Changes in the condition of the federal reserve banks during 1920, according to the review reflect the changes in the credit policy originated about the last of 1919.

"Preferential rates on paper secured by liberty bonds and victory notes," the review continued, "were abrogated by some reserve banks and raised by others to a level more nearly approximating the rate level for ordinary commercial paper. In the case of paper secured by treasury certificates adopted were in most cases identical with the high coupon rates fixed by the government thus holding no inducement to the member banks to carry these securities among their own investments and use them as collateral for loans at the federal reserve banks, but rather providing a stimulus to place them in the hands of ultimate investors. The results are seen in the gradual decrease of the amounts of war paper held during the year by the reserve banks.

Early in the year the federal reserve banks raised their discount rates on commercial paper but the influence of the higher rates is seen in retarding the progress of borrowing rather than in restricting them. In fact total federal reserve bank holdings of discounted bills on December 30 of 2,719.1 millions is 487.9 millions larger than at the beginning of the year.

"Holdings of bills purchased in open market show an almost uninterrupted decline for the period under review. From a total of $74.6 millions at the beginning of the year a decline to $55.7 millions on December 30 is shown, the decrease of $18.9 millions being due largely to the increased demand for this class of bills by Savings Banks, trust companies, also corporate and individual investors. No appreciable changes are shown in the amounts and classes of United States bonds held.

"Net deposits of the reserve banks show a general downward tendency for the year, the December total of 1,804.2 millions being 246.9 millions below the corresponding total at the beginning of the year, decreases in reserve and net deposits reflecting reductions in demand deposits of member banks, especially during the latter part of the year.

"Federal reserve note circulation, after the usual contraction at the beginning of the year, when a return flow of notes issued during the holiday season occurs, show an almost uninterrupted expansion from the minimum amount of 2,844 millions on January 23, to a maximum of 3,404.9 millions on December 23. The total of 3,344.7 millions on December 30 marks a reduction of 69.2 millions for the week, but an expansion rather than growth of deposits accompanying the increase in the borrowings of member banks.

"Federal reserve bank note circulation shows a practically steady decline from 259 millions on January 2, to 177 millions on May 14, but since that date an increase of 217 millions on December 30 is noted."

COAL OIL JOHNNY IS DEAD AT FORT CROOK, NEBRASKA

Famous Character of Half a Century Ago Passes Away

THREW HIS MONEY AWAY

(By The Associated Press)
OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 1.—John W. Steele, who became nationally famous "half a century ago" as "Coal Oil Johnny" died of pneumonia yesterday at Fort Crook, Neb., where he was station agent for the Burlington railway.

Steele, who was born in Shalleville, Pa. in 1843 first attracted attention in New York city by throwing away money to boys and men on the street apparently because he liked to see them scramble for it.

Mrs. Steele said that after the discovery of oil on his Pennsylvania land years ago, the money flowed in as a royalty. They were married at that time. The publicity which the newspapers gave his newly acquired wealth and the manner in which he enjoyed spending it made him an object of interest wherever he went. When he came west 45 years ago and the days of royalties were over, he finally refused to tell of his experiences and regarded that part of his career as a closed book. He had been in the Burlington's employ for 37 years.

Squandered Large Fortune
Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 1.—Veteran oil men of this district, when informed tonight of the death of "Coal Oil Johnny" Steele, recalled many interesting incidents connected with the life of the man who "squandered a fortune of more than $500,000 in less than a year."

While on a visit to New York Steele took a notion that he wanted a thorough horse and a very fine rig. These he purchased from a stranger, paying a large sum of money in exchange. After driving about the city for a few days, Johnny took the horse and rig back to the former owner and returned it to him as a "present."

On another occasion, Steele bought a hotel in Philadelphia, operated it for a week or two, and then presented it to a friend. Late in the '60s Steele found that his fortune had dwindled to a few dollars and he went west.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Courtesy he extended several months ago to an aged worshiper has made Joseph A. Boyle, sexton of St. Patrick's Cathedral, richer by $80,000 he said today.

Boyle returned yesterday from Ireland, where he said he was called by attorneys of the late Daniel Cassidy 76, of Cork, who had bequeathed him the money.

"Mr. Cassidy was in New York recently, and he came often to the cathedral," Boyle said. "I tried to be nice to him as I do everybody. I answered his questions and showed him every little attention I could. When he left he remarked he would remember me in his will."

GERMANS WILL KEEP THEIR SWORDS SHARP

Advice Given By Commander-in-Chief in New Year's Message—Will Be Able to Rival Old in Efficiency.

(By The Associated Press)
Berlin, Jan. 1.—In his New Year's message to the army, Major General von Seeckt, the German commander-in-chief, refers to the necessity of the soldiers devoting themselves wholly to their calling.

"We will keep our sword sharp and our shield unimpaired," says the message. "Inspired by such a true conception of honor and of patriotism and by the feeling of responsibility the new army will be able to rival the old in efficiency. As an active, living member of the whole body of the nation it will show itself worthy and will gain and keep the esteem and affection of all. Even after the abolition of general conscription the army must and will thus remain a real national army."

NAVAL SEAPLANE ESTABLISHES NEW NON STOP RECORD

Flies 702 Miles With Pilot and Five Passengers

AVERAGED SEVENTY TWO MILES AN HOUR

(By The Associated Press)
SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 1.—Establishing a new American non-stop duration record for seaplanes, a United States Naval Seaplane NC-5 flew from San Diego, California, to Magdalena Bay, Lower California, in the remarkable time of nine hours and 15 minutes today. The big triple motored plane covered the 702 miles between Point Loma and Magdalena Bay at an average speed of 72 miles an hour, the fastest time ever made on this coast by a seaplane of this type.

Exceptional interest, centered in this remarkable dash down the coast, was shown by the local press. The naval air station here reported the flight of the NC-5 was the longest in the history of naval aviation and exceeded by 65 miles the longest jump made by the seaplane in the Atlantic flight.

The NC-5 was commanded by Lieutenant H. V. Baugh. According to the schedule of the flight the twelve other machines were to have left Magdalena Bay this morning for the next flight to Bandierias Bay 445 miles away.

At 7:15 tonight the naval air station announced that it had had no report today from the planes which should have reached Bandierias Bay this afternoon.

AMERICAN LEGION AND LABOR TRYING TO REACH AGREEMENT

Gompers and Galbraith are Exchanging Letters

ORGANIZATION NOT RESPONSIBLE

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 1.—That a definite understanding has been reached between the American Federation of Labor and the American Legion, and that a co-ordinated effort is to be made by both organizations to solve their mutual problems was revealed in correspondence between F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the legion and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, which was made public today at the national headquarters of the legion here.

The letters, which continue an exchange begun before Mr. Galbraith took office, express the opinion of both executives that an organization as such can scarcely be held responsible for acts of individual members which may not agree either with the letter or the spirit of the bodies' official pronouncements. The correspondence specifically refers to alleged political activities of legion members last fall in Kansas.

MRS. MAC SWINEY IS BOUND FOR HOME WITH MESSAGE

Will Tell DeValera That All is Well in United States

PAID HONORS AS SHIP SAILS

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the late Lord Mayor of Cork sailed today from America today carrying a message to Eamon de Valera "president of the Irish Republic" a message that "all is well" among the sympathizers with his cause in this country. This message to the Sinn Fein leader was sent by his secretary Harry Boland, who announced yesterday that his "chief" had landed in Erin to direct the Irish fight for independence after spending fifteen months in the United States.

Several hundred Irish sympathizers surrounded Mrs. MacSwiney as she entered the pier to go on board the steamship Pan Handle Star, bearing aloft the three striped banners of Ireland's "Republic." New York's fighting sixteenth regiment band serenaded her and the crowd sang Irish airs.

In a farewell message Mrs. MacSwiney called upon America speedily to relieve the devastation of Ireland and help it stand by your side, a free and independent nation. She pictured Ireland as "the victim of such cruelty and crime that even its truncheons condemn themselves as the strike, where no home is safe from the fire brand and ravisher and no person is sure of his life from days to days—all this because he seeks to walk in the path of liberty which she United States First made."

"My son William B. Leeds, Jr., son of the late American 'dollar king' and Anastasia will remain in the United States where his father left a great name which he must carry on. My son should now be in school in England, but he is traveling with my sister because he has asthma.

"The Greeks are most pleasant to me, the soldiers and peasants sending me flowers and trinkets. It is my plan to get a house here for the winter and keep one in England during the summers. Also I shall visit my own country. I will probably will go there next winter."

BALFOUR FAILED TO TELL CONGRESS OF JAPANESE TREATY

Made Before England Borrowed Four Billions

ISOLATES THE ISLAND OF GUAM

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—William Denman of San Francisco, first chairman of the shipping board, declared today in an open letter to members of congress that the reason Arthur J. Balfour, former British secretary of state for foreign affairs, failed to disclose to American government officials the existence of the secret treaties between Great Britain and Japan required "no further explanation than his quest for the four billions of dollars," which the United States loaned Great Britain early in the war.

Mr. Denman said Mr. Balfour arranged "for these monies" in May, 1917, when he was in this country as head of the British war mission. "His protestations of deep friendship for the interest of the United States," wrote Mr. Denman, "filled our press and warned his auditors in the hall of congress and at the tables where our hospitality was extended to him. While he was making them ink was scarcely dry on the last of the three notes constituting the so-called secret Shanghai treaties, which, from a naval standpoint destroyed the Island of Guam, probably our most valuable naval base in the Pacific."

"Japan, our rival in the Pacific was by agreement with Great Britain, confirmed in the possession of the Marienne group of islands which placed an unsurmountable barrier between us and the North Asiatic and the Japanese Islands. Great Britain's price for this was the British control of the islands of the South Pacific group which in the event of hostilities to which such diplomacy inevitably tends, isolated Guam from the Philippines."

"It is obvious that Mr. Balfour owed to us the disclosure of the existence of these agreements. Why he did not, requires no further explanation than his quest of the four billions of dollars."

"It will help liberal England to understand the growing mistrust of America toward her to know that there was active deception in addition to suppression of the facts at the time the loan was negotiated."

Mr. Denman then charges that at a conference between the Balfour mission and himself and Secretary Lansing and Assistant Secretary Polk, of the state department, Mr. Balfour stated that "all agreements between the allies affecting the interests of the United States and general world shipping conditions, would be fully disclosed to the American conferees, but that he had never redeemed his promise."

"There would be no difficulty in de Valera remaining hidden here as long as he chooses as there are many persons who would not risk harboring the average suspect who would give him asylum. The expectation is that if de Valera is in Dublin he first will consult his intimates and then make known his presence and await arrest."

WOULD BE NO TROUBLE TO HIDE

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—Leading Sinn Feiners and government officials alike deny knowledge of the arrival here of Eamonn de Valera.

They assert that he did not arrive on board the Steamer Pontania from New York and telephonic inquiry at several Irish ports failed to reveal that the president of the Irish republic has made his entry into Ireland.

Soma Sinn Feiners credit the statement of Harry Boland, secretary to de Valera in the United States that de Valera has landed on Irish soil saying that he would not make such a statement unless it was true. It is stated that there would be no need to arrest de Valera on the old charge against him that of having escaped from jail as he could be taken into custody under the restoration of order in Ireland act.

There would be no difficulty in de Valera remaining hidden here as long as he chooses as there are many persons who would not risk harboring the average suspect who would give him asylum. The expectation is that if de Valera is in Dublin he first will consult his intimates and then make known his presence and await arrest."

MESSAGE FROM WILSON CHEERS CARDINAL GIBBONS

Condition Showed Much Improvement Saturday.

IS UNABLE TO SEE VISITORS

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 2.—At an early hour this (Sunday) morning, Cardinal Gibbons' condition was unchanged. No visitors were permitted to see him yesterday. There was no recurrence yesterday of the sinking spells, two of which so weakened the aged prelate Friday as to cause his physicians to deny all callers the privilege of seeing him.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 1.—Cardinal Gibbons was cheered greatly tonight by a message of sympathy, received from President Wilson and it was reported at the home of Robert T. Shriver at Union Mills, where he has been confined during his illness that he was much improved over his condition yesterday.

The message sent by the president's secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, to Bishop Owen B. Corrigan was as follows:

"The President has learned with sympathy and distress of the Cardinal's illness, and hopes that he may very soon hear of a decided turn for the better."

The bishop had the message telephoned to the Cardinal's secretary, the Rev. Albert E. Smith, at Mr. Shriver's home, who transmitted it to the Cardinal. The Cardinal awoke this morning from a refreshing sleep "feeling like a new man," according to Father Smith. He spent the day quietly but pleasantly with no alarming shakings and with nothing to excite him. No visitors were allowed to see him.

It was hoped that he would be able to sleep tonight also and those in attendance on him were greatly encouraged, altho they realized that his condition still was dangerous and liable to another sudden turn for the worse.

The making of New Year's resolutions is somewhat not as much in favor as used to be the case a few years ago. But it is not a bad custom after all, for usually even broken resolutions are worth while. If you have a secret yearning at this, the beginning of a new year, to form a really good habit, you cannot do better than exemplify that splendid Boy Scout pledge, "To do a good turn daily." That's a habit that will bring its own reward.

Senator Penrose is not always right but there is much of sound sense in his lack of enthusiasm over an emergency tariff bill, relating only to certain products. He takes the ground that a tariff measure should be the result of long deliberation, based upon scientific investigation, and says that general relief from depressed conditions cannot come by applying a special law for one class of production.

An estimate has been made by Prof. Raymond Pearl of the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, that the United States will have a population of 197,000,000 the maximum which its continental territory can sustain about the year 2100. To support such a population, he added, 260,000,000,000,000 calories of food a year would be needed and it would be necessary to import about half of the food required. With the promise of such huge consumption of products 180 years hence why worry about present day surpluses?

Already many farms have electricity delivered to them by the central station plants and with a very short time it is to be expected that the rural districts will have the same efficient and modern service as is possible in the thickly populated cities. The same plants that serve the cities, now furnish service to the smaller communities and to the farms. One company alone may serve hundreds of communities from its central station energy producing plants. That is why the rendering of service is now regulated by the state, rather than by individual localities.

THE GOOD OUTLOOK.

The Manufacturers News takes a hopeful view of the business situation and expresses it in this way:

"Yet, in spite of conditions which, in other years, caused panics and nation-wide distress, the people at large are confident and hopeful, knowing that the slump is but temporary and that the prospects for a prosperous season were never more promising than now. As soon as a permanent price level is established a substantial buying movement is bound to begin which will keep busy every shop and factory in the country. The spirit of unrest that has upset the public mind is gradually giving way to a sense of hopefulness and a growing faith in the future. Business has been tried and not found wanting. It will recover and a little bit later appreciate the lessons taught by the anxieties of the readjustment period, now happily drawing to a close.

"The prosperity of 1921 will make us forget the trials of 1920. We are entering upon the new year with minds chastened by a little adversity. Nineteen twenty-one may not be the best year we have ever had but it will be one of the most satisfying, because it will lead us back to normality, with plenty of work and legitimate profits for all."

Rippling Rhymes

THE KNOCKER

You buy a car you think is great, a bus that's strictly up to date. Your breast is filled with wholesome pride when you go forth to take a ride, for you have saved a long, long while to buy a boat that's quite in style. You feel while gliding down the street, that life is sumptuous and sweet; you're bubbling o'er with genial mirth, good will to men. And when you park your car down town, up comes J. Pumpernickel-Brown. "Great Scott!" he cries; "Jehosephat! I wouldn't own a van like that! Oh, why in blitzen did you blow for such a cheese the hard-earned dough? Of all the lemons that's the worst; among the gold bricks it is first. Its working parts will break like glass, it is a swine for oil and gas." And so this omnipresent jay has knocked the pleasure from your day, and pulled a cloud across your sun, and spoiled your little slice of fun. In every street of every town there is a Pumpernickel-Brown who can't be satisfied or glad unless he makes another sad. His cheap remarks should not destroy the cheerful neighbor's honest joy, but joy's a thing that soon looks sick when some one hits it with a brick. And so this Pumpernickel-Brown distributes sorrow up and down.

GUY BATES POST WILL APPEAR AT GRAND

Every Lover of Drama Will be Anxious to Hear This Great Actor in "The Masquerader."

In the person of Guy Bates Post, who enacts the trying dual roles of John Loder and John Chilcote in his latest and greatest success—and that is saying much when one recalls "Omar"—"The Masquerader," the lover of the drama has an artist, pre-eminent, a man who has caught every shade of meaning, every subtlety of the two roles, either of which would bring fame to their impersonators. Post plays with so much meaning, such depth of feeling, his auditors are carried into the essence of the character to the extent they become a part of that character itself. The characterizations are the most artistic of latter day drama and one does not find it difficult to agree with Richard Walton Tully, who maintains that Guy Bates Post is the greatest actor on the English speaking stage; Australia's most severe critic said "Post can do all that Irving did, and more, for he combines the stilted poise of the actor who is gone with the ease, grace, eloquence and subtlety of modern characters."

As one watches the gradual degeneration of the titled Chilcote, one feels something akin to sympathy for the soul that the drenched moribund is slowly but surely securing within its grasp; and as we grow with the character of John Loder from a hack writer to the most influential member of Parliament we feel as though we were personally attaining a goal we had dreamed about since childhood.

"Early in life," says Mr. Post, "I came to the dividing of the ways, as every young man does—would I be satisfied with becoming an actor who, attaining ordinary success, rests on this attainment, or would I make the effort to master the most difficult of all the arts. The first was comparatively easy, the latter meant labor without end, perhaps disappointment for reward, nights of study, days of effort, I had read of some one who, having an impediment in his speech, daily went to lonely beach and placing pebbles in his mouth learned to master his mother tongue, eventually becoming one of the greatest orators of his time. Acting under the suggestion, I, countless times, have sought a lonely spot and again and again repeated certain difficult passages in the plays in which I was to appear. Would it surprise you to know that I sought out and almost constantly associated with a drug addict for weeks in order that I might learn what that addict's attitude was toward the world and humanity; it was what you see in John Chilcote—to be alone with that drug and its effects."

LEGION WILL ASSIST MEMBERS IN NEED

State Organization Will Center Its Energies on Assisting Members in Need of Help—Thousands Whose Earning Capacity Has Been Impaired.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—By The Associated Press.—The American Legion in Illinois enters the new year centering its energies on the service of members needing help, William R. McCauley, department commander declares in a statement on the opening of 1921. He said:

"With the dawn of this new year, The American Legion stands upon the threshold of the most crucial period that it has faced in its short existence.

"To make The American Legion 'THE organization of the service man and woman—honored upon by everyone as the spokesman of the four million who bore arms in our country's crisis—is the task that confronts us.

The past twelve months have seen us accomplish great things, the coming twelve months, let us hope, will witness still greater accomplishments. We have begun our battle to see that justice is done to every man and woman who serves under our country's flag; let us hope that by the end of this year our task shall have been completed.

"During the coming year we must work with but one view in mind—to care for our wounded and disabled comrades, many of whom have made far greater sacrifices than those who lie buried in the fields of France.

"At the start of the past year hundreds were dying from tuberculosis with absolutely no medical treatment or attention, hundreds of our shell-shocked buddies were quartered in insane asylums, mingling with every variety of mental disorder; others were quartered on poor farms, receiving only the attention the county gives its paupers, still others were patients in discredited hospitals, receiving treatment amidst filth and squalor.

Earning Ability Impaired.

"Then there were hundreds—yes, thousands—whose earning ability had been impaired by wounds or disease suffered while in service. Many of them were receiving a few dollars each month from the government; many more had claims pending, others had been rejected, and all in all, and almost total lack of cooperation existed between the various governmental bureaus organized for this purpose and the service men and women.

"Today, however, if the American Legion can make no other claim, it can go to the service man of Illinois and the United States and say with pride that it has not only begun the fight to see that these deplorable conditions are remedied, but it has already accomplished this result in hundreds of cases.

"The good-will and cooperation of every able-bodied ex-service man and woman must be enlisted during the coming year in this fight—the greatest that any of us has ever taken part in—the fight to see that justice is accorded to the hundreds and thousands unable to carry on the battle for themselves. That is why the Department of Illinois is directing all its energies to the Service Department; that is why every department of the American Legion in Illinois has been coordinated to this one great task.

"Only when every man in need of medical treatment is receiving the best possible care; only when every man with a grievance against the government shall have had his claim adjusted; only when every ex-service man and woman, able-bodied and disabled, shall have received the justice due him or her from the United States—only then shall the American Legion be satisfied that it has accomplished the principle set forth in the preamble to its constitution: 'To consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion and mutual helpfulness.'

OPEN STONE QUARRIES NEAR MONMOUTH, ILL.

Monmouth, Ill., Jan. 1.—Five tons of dynamite, with only a slight rumble and a huge cloud of dust, lifted the entire side of a hill near here recently and settled it within the limits mathematically calculated by explosive experts beforehand. Officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad had requested a postponement of the blast until after its passenger trains were well out of the way for the day, fearing the consequence of such a charge of high explosive, and hundreds of persons had assembled, expecting the entire face of the country to be transformed.

The big blow-out was in connection with the formal opening of the new quarries near here of the Monmouth Stone Co. A deposit of limestone marble, suitable for use in finishing buildings, road construction and as a farm fertilizer was uncovered. Moulding sand, mason sand and gravel for all of which there is no similar adequate supply within a radius of several hundred miles, are also now made available to this part of the state. Few men will be required in the quarry's exploitation, most of the work being done by machinery. Power is secured from the Keokuk dam.

Lincoln, Ill., Jan. 1.—A drop of $100 per acre in the price of Logan county land, compared to a year ago, was noted here several days ago when $375 was the highest price bid for land at an executor's sales. A year ago the same land was selling for between $500 to $550 per acre.

RECOMMENDS PUBLIC BATHS

Paris. — The Paris Municipal Council has decided that public swimming baths are not only a necessity but that they are likely to prove a paying venture and has asked the city architects to prepare plans for three baths to be erected in Paris within 18 months.

The only swimming baths in Paris except for those moored along the Seine banks which, although popular in the summer months prove no attraction in winter.

The probable cost of each establishment is estimated at 2,000,000 francs. Delegates from the Municipal Council have been sent to Alsace to inspect the baths there. The Paris baths are to be modeled after those of Strasbourg.

AGENT OF FORMER PRINCE IS ARRESTED

Charged With Having Sold Royal Jewelry.

Berne, Switzerland.—By Associated Press.—Max Westermann, the former agent of the Hungarian Prince Esterhazy has been arrested by the Zurich police, charged with having sold the jewelry of the Esterhazy family and realized more than $500,000 from the sale.

It is alleged that Prince Esterhazy gave the family jewels to Westermann during the Hungarian revolution and Westermann promised to carry the jewels to a safe place in Switzerland. The police allege that Westermann had more than 50 accomplices but none of them have yet been arrested.

Most of the property of Prince Nichols Esterhazy, one of the wealthiest of the Hungarian aristocrats, was sequestered by the Hungarian Bolsheviks during the revolution of last year. The Prince who was the owner of 100,000 acres of land, several castles and art collections of great value was reported then to have been assigned by the Bolsheviks to a three-room apartment in his splendid castle of Eisenstadt. A Bolshevik tailor was administrator of his estates and it was reported that the Prince had applied to him for work in order to support his family. The Bolshevik appointed him inspector of his own forests at a salary of 3,000 crowns a month. Formerly the Prince's income amounted to several million crowns a year.

FORMER EMPEROR HOPES TO GET THRONE

BUDAPEST. — By Associated Press.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary has sent a letter to his supporters here encouraging them in the hope that he will be restored to the Austro-Hungarian throne. "Powerful agents are at work to restore the Austro-Hungarian monarchy and thereby prevent the Austrians from joining Germany," the erstwhile monarch wrote from Pragens, Switzerland, where he is still in exile.

Wait patiently, out trusty and well-beloved, the circumstances are favorable and with the help of God I shall return to my faithful Magyar subjects." The letter was brought by a confidant to Charles' adherents headed by Prince Louis Windischgratz, Counte Julius Andassy and Baron Joseph Szerenyi. In it he warned his partisans against making alliances or conspiring with adventures, because, he wrote, he had no doubt about the ultimate victory of the legitimistic principle.

"My claim,—the letter continues—"is supported by the Vatican and backed by the French aristocracy, the clergy and the higher military circles. I hope that the Catholic population of Croatia and Slovakia will be only too glad to return under my sceptre and King Ferdinand of Rumania will not refuse some territorial concessions from men who saved his throne at the time when Rumania was occupied by the Germans."

HANDLE WHEAT CROP ON CO-OPERATIVE BASIS

Is Proposal of United Farmers Grain Corporation of Canada—Would Eliminate Speculation and Waste.

Winnipeg.—A form of agreement has been drawn up here by a special committee appointed by the Canadian Council of Agriculture on which it is proposed to handle on a co-operative basis for the next five years the wheat crop of Ontario and Western Canada.

Agreements are to be between "the United Farmers' Grain Corporation, a non-profit corporation," and the individual producer, and it is set out that contracts are not to become effective "until similar contracts covering at least sixty per cent or approximately ten million acres of wheat have been entered into."

The express aims of the corporation are declared to be "co-operative marketing, eliminating speculation and waste." The grower who enters into contract with the corporation agrees to deliver to it all his wheat save what he retains for his own seed and feed, and the corporation agrees to sell this wheat at the best prices obtainable under the market conditions and to turn over to the grower the proceeds less all costs of operations.

GILLHAM FUNERAL HOME MEETS NEEDS OF TODAY

Establishment Is Credit to Jacksonville and Is Complete in Every Detail.

For twenty-one years as funeral director W. W. Gillham has sought to anticipate the needs of this community. That statement sums up the reason why the Gillham Funeral Home is today one of the institutions in which Jacksonville has reason for pride. Within recent months this beautiful and commodious structure has been completed at 326 West State street.

As conditions change, customs change and so with the years has come the practice of holding services in funeral homes, planned and erected for this very purpose. While the funeral home is not a new institution to large city life, there are very few cities of the size of Jacksonville where such complete establishments exist as that Mr. Gillham has erected for the uses of the people of this community.

When death comes into a home it frequently happens that conditions make it difficult to hold a funeral service there. Yet there are certain memories and associations which are held dear and the sorrowing relatives and friends would much prefer the services in the home. It is to meet such situations and to keep pace with custom that Mr. Gillham planned the Funeral Home in Jacksonville.

Privacy Retained.

The transfer of a funeral service from a private home to the Funeral Home eliminates some associations which add to the difficulties of the services and retains other memories and associations which make the services the more sacred. In the Funeral Home the thought is to retain all the sacred privacy of the home, yet to make available the larger space and a certain equipment which tend to add stateliness and dignity to the service. So the Gillham Funeral Home has been erected to meet a present day demand and is offered now to the community.

as a tangible evidence of an ideal achieved.

It should be said in passing that no charge is made for the use of the chapel or assembly rooms. The Home represents a large expenditure of money. The visitor to this Home, with its exterior finish of stone and brick and handsome interior, finds that all expenditures have been well planned.

The main entrance leads into a lobby that narrows into a hall extending almost the entire length of the building. Directly off the lobby to the left are the general reception room, a private reception room and the office. On the east side of the hallway are two large rooms, finished as to floors and hangings just as a private home. The chairs are upholstered and the whole furnishings are of a kind to testify to good taste in selection and a desire to buy the best.

Rooms Described.

In a small room nearby is the piano and everything which can fit in appropriately with a funeral service is available. There are two service rooms, finished in detail to resemble those in a home, and the body of a deceased person rests there upon a couch where the family and friends may gather with entire privacy. The operating room is to the west and the walls and ceiling are done in white enamel and the floor is of concrete.

To the rear are storage rooms, and from one of these a door leads to the extensive garage. The private driveway on the chapel side of the building enters a porte cochere and the casket following a funeral service is taken from the Funeral Home by the east door. The driveway arrangement makes it possible for an ambulance to enter the garage when the door closes and desired privacy is again attained.

The display and stock rooms occupy the entire second floor. As indicated above, Mr. Gillham has been a funeral director for 21 years. He began his work here and his study of community needs brought about the business development which led to the establishment of this Home.

In every detail the Home purposes to all a need and to make easier to meet the difficult happenings which must at some time or other come to every family. The various departments of the Home are well worthy of inspection and Mr. Gillham will be glad to show visitors thru it at any time.

California Defeated Ohio State 28-0

PASADENA, Calif. Jan. 1.—University of California's "Wonder team" outplayed and defeated the "Big Ten" champions, Ohio State, 28 to 0 today in the annual Tournament of Roses New Year's Day East-West game.

The score was the largest ever rolled up by a western team against eastern invaders.

Ohio State's famed aerial attack and "last minute drive to victory," fell before the brilliant Blue and Gold defense and the 42,000 spectators saw California take a leaf from the Buckeyes' book and beat Ohio men at their own game of forward passing. California on the offensive had a dazzling assortment of passes, long and short, and on the defense broke up most of Ohio's throws intercepting them always when the middle westerners threatened to score.

Coupled with the phenomenal California display of passing, was an offensive as varied as any ever seen in the west. Coach Andy Smith's men slashed the Ohio line at will, circled the Ohio ends and with double passes and criss-cross baffled their opponents.

The story of California's victory in a large measure was the story of the playing of "Brick" Muller, California's brilliant end. Muller was a stone wall on defense and on the offensive played a remarkable game. Three of California's touchdowns were the direct result of Muller's mastery of the aerial attack, both in passing and receiving.

Pete Stinchcomb, Ohio State's all-American half back did everything expected of him and more, but the California defense, which had been perfected to stop him, passable and, altho Stinchcomb gained probably more yardage than any other player today, his work demonstrated that one man cannot win from a trained "variety."

California's line outcharged its rivals and often opened tremendous holes thru which the backs plunged for large gains. The Ohio forwards were unable to cope with the fierceness of this attack and when the secondary defense came in to back up the forward wall California opened up and forward passed their way to victory.

"Tarzan" Taylor and Captain Huffman were the outstanding stars of the Ohio line.

A southern California sun blazed down on the turf and probably hampered the Buckeyes, who came from a cold climate, but it is doubtful if snow, rain and slush could have halted the Californians.

Statistics of the game showed California made 18 first downs to 10 for Ohio and gained considerable more yardage both on straight and open football. Gains at punting were about even.

Seven minutes of play saw the first California touchdown.

An Ohio fumble, recovered by California and followed up with a versatile attack, resulted in Sprott going over the line.

In the second period Muller tossed a fifty yard pass, probably the longest ever thrown in the west to Stephens who went over for the second score. The third goal came in the same quarter when an assortment of plays put Sprott over with an end run.

No score was made in the third period but in the fourth Sprott circled the Ohio left end to the five yard line where Deeds in two bucks went over.

Attendance at today's game broke all western football records according to the Tournament of Roses officials. There were rooting sections supporting the two teams, half a dozen bands and many colors in the stands. During the game airplanes soared overhead and a "pony blimp" made regular trips around the field.

TWO CLEVELAND MEN IN BATTLE FOR LIFE

Cleveland, O.—Inside the dingy portals of the old courthouse on the public square here, two Clevelanders, from two extremes of society, have fought a battle for life in two of Cleveland's greatest murder trials going on at the same time.

In one room, William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, is struggling to free himself on a charge of second degree murder for the slaying of Harold C. Kazy.

While the McGannon trial was on, George "Jiggs" Losteiner, gunman and thug, wounded and captured during a bank robbery at Bedford, O., was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in another room for the murder of Patrolman Patrick J. Gaffney.

McGannon, 50, born in a log cabin, his early youth one of study and hard work, rose steadily in public respect to one of the highest places on the bench here. Losteiner, 35, born in Cleveland, whose early life was one of petty thefts and shirking of work, descended further until he became a hunted criminal with a reward offered for his arrest.

Directors

A Banking Record of Thirty Successful Years

The people of Jacksonville and Morgan county will read with interest the announcements of Dunlap-Russel & Co. and of the directors of the Ayers National Bank, which appear elsewhere in this issue. It has been assumed that the business of the Dunlap-Russel & Co. bank would be consolidated with that of the Ayers National in order to meet conditions of the present state law, but definite announcement was not made until yesterday.

Eight years ago when M. F. Dunlap and Andrew Russel as controlling factors in the Ayers National bank erected the present building it was the intention to speedily remove the Dunlap-Russel & Co. bank there. However, the plans for consolidation were delayed from time to time because of certain advantages to both institutions in the continuance of separate operation. It was because of the adoption of the state law requiring that all private banks retire from business by January 1, 1921, that the original consolidation plan was readopted.

As a matter of financial history it is interesting to note that it was just thirty years ago yesterday that Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Russel opened the Dunlap-Russel & Co. bank in the building which it still occupies on the west side of the public square. For some months the owners of the bank conducted it without clerical assistance but the growth was rapid and it was not long until an extensive force was necessary for the handling of the business. The development of the institution thru the years is a matter of common knowledge.

About ten years ago Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Russel acquired control of the Ayers National bank. Within a few years' time they purchased the Jacksonville National bank and after operating it as a separate institution for some time, transferred the business to the Ayers National, thereby adding to the prestige of the already strong banking institution under their control.

Each year has been one of growth, with development in every department. When the Ayers National bank building was erected there were many good friends of both Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Russel who felt that the structure was a little too ambitious—that it was larger than the business demands of Jacksonville. But events have shown the wisdom and vision of these bankers. There was generous provision for space and equipment in the bank itself, but patronage has quickly measured up with these facilities. The space in the office building seemed excessive but today there is a waiting list of tenants.

It is seldom that men of such varied experience in banking are associated in one concern. The experiences of Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Russel have given them the view points of the private banker and those who operate under both state and national supervision. Both men have become so prominently identified with banking interests that they are known in a state wide way, and their successful records constitute an interesting page in the financial history of Illinois.

There are few cities of the size of Jacksonville that can boast a banking institution with the capital and resources of the Ayers National and the addition of resources and deposits from the Dunlap-Russel & Co. bank will place the Ayers National in a still more formidable position.

It is not surprising to note from the announcement that Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Russel are unwilling to entirely surrender the firm name which thru the years has become such a valuable asset and Dunlap-Russel & Co. will continue business at 14 West Side Square, dealing in investment securities. Especially in these later years there has been increasing local interest in investment securities and each year a larger number of people find the purchase of first class paper a satisfactory way for handling their investments.

With the knowledge that they have of securities, Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Russel feel that a continuation of this branch of their business will be of service and convenience to the investing public and at the same time satisfactorily profitable to themselves.

Reference to the banking business of Messrs. Dunlap and Russel would not be complete without reference to the Alexander State bank which was established by them in 1910 and is still under their ownership. The interests of the Alexander bank have been developed thru the years in a very living way.

ANOTHER FINE SERVICE AT NORTHMINSTER

Dr. Spoonst Delivers Powerful Sermon at Saturday Night's Service—Meetings of Special Interest Announced for Today.

The Saturday evening service at Northminster church was of a most impressive kind. There was a special song service preceding the sermon and this was a very inspiring nature. The choir under the direction of J. Wade Seniff is furnishing some excellent music at each service. Mr. Seniff sang as a solo "My Father Knows."

It was announced that three special services will be held today. At 10:45 Dr. Spoonst will preach, his theme being "A Live Wire." At 2:30 p. m. Mr. Seniff will conduct a young people's meeting, and at 7:30 Dr. Spoonst will again be heard, speaking on the theme "Spiritual Twins." It was announced that at the Sunday evening service Mr. Seniff will render one of his best solos and it is hoped there will be a large audience present to hear him. There will be no service Monday evening. Beginning with Tuesday evening there will be a fifteen minute prayer service in the basement of the church each evening, commencing at 7:15 o'clock.

Only a few paragraphs are given from the Saturday night sermon: "When God freed the Egyptians He raised up a man to lead them. The question of the Christian of today is by what manner may the fragments be reconstructed. The people of today need reconstruction. We are too self-satisfied, too much inclined to feel that our ideals are high enough. It is up to the Christians of every community to lead in this reconstruction program. It is only by righteous examples that people are led to righteousness. If we expect people to be Christians we must be the right sort of Christians ourselves."

"Jacksonville needs louder living in stead of louder talking. We need fathers and mothers who will say to the family, 'Let us work for God.' Too many are thinking more of accumulating earthly treasures than they are of laying up riches in the Heavenly kingdom. It is only by thinking and praying together than we can accomplish worth while things for the home and the community."

S. T. ANDERSON IS INJURED BY AUTO

Well Known Citizen Struck by a Car Driven by James Ransom—Is Patient at Passavant Hospital.

Samuel T. Anderson one of the city's best known residents is a patient at Passavant hospital as the result of being struck by an automobile driven by James Ransom about 5 o'clock Friday evening.

The accident occurred at the intersection of West State and Westminster streets. Mr. Anderson was crossing West State street at the intersection going south to his home. The right leg especially is badly bruised and Mr. Anderson is also suffering from shock.

After the accident the injured man was removed to his home. Saturday afternoon J. G. Reynolds had him removed to Passavant hospital. Mr. Anderson is 74 years of age and not in robust health which makes the accident the more serious. However, if no complications arise he will recover.

Mr. Ransom said he did not see Mr. Anderson and the latter says he did not see the car.

NOTABLE WEDDING VOWS ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Miss Dorothy Rogerson is Bride of Edward M. Tomlinson—Impressive Ceremony Took Place in Illinois College Chapel.

That indeed was a very handsome wedding ceremonial which Jacksonville people witnessed Saturday night in the chapel of the Jones Memorial building, when the Miss Dorothy Winslow Rogerson became the bride of Mr. Edward M. Tomlinson. With such a large wedding party there could not but be a touch of elaborateness, yet a charming simplicity marked all the details of this impressive event.

As the large company of guests was assembling Mr. William Wesner at the organ gave a program including "To A Wild Rose" and "The Barcarolle from 'The Tales of Hoffman.'" Mrs. H. C. Woltman a sister of the bride, made beautiful contribution to the musical program with three songs, "Love's Coronation," "The Song of Thanksgiving" and "Beloved It is Morn."

As the wedding party entered the chapel Mr. Wesner played the wedding music from Lohengrin and the recessional was the Mendelssohn march.

The bridal party approached the altar by the south aisle. The bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Carter, Miss Katherine Louise Bradley of Champaign and Miss Margaret Tomlinson. All wore handsome girlish gowns of taffeta and carried plumosa ferns. Miss Carter wore pink, Miss Bradley's dress was of orchid shade, and Miss Tomlinson was in yellow. The matron of honor was Mrs. Eugene B. Harlow of Kingman, Kans., a sister of the bride, and herself a bride of a year, who wore Princess Pat satin, her wedding gown. Mrs. Harlow carried ferns in graceful bouquet effect.

The maid of honor was Miss Edna Hackett, who was gowned in taffeta of old rose coloring shaded to a beautiful pink. She also carried ferns. Then came the ring bearers, dressed in dainty white, each carrying a ring upon a satin pillow. Barbara Dunlap and Rogerson Woltman.

The bride came with her father, George S. Rogerson. The bride gown was of white Princess Pat satin, made with plain effect, there being no trimming other than tiny ostrich plumes. The gown was made with court train and the bridal veil was caught back with a beautiful ornament of pearls and diamonds. Her bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley.

At the altar the bridal party was met by the groom, his best man, the ushers and the clergyman, Dr. Thomas W. Smith, pastor of Westminster church.

The best man was Mr. Eugene B. Harlow of Kingman, Kans., and the ushers Messrs. Edgar Decker, St. Louis; Edwin Smith, Harold Dunlap, and Floyd Lashmet, Jacksonville.

Dr. Smith made the double ring service especially beautiful and as members of the party stood before him, with the added effect from the artistic decorations the wedding picture was one which will linger long in memory. The chapel, a stately room, had been made into a bower of loveliness with the generous use of ferns and evergreens, which appeared to great advantage underneath the brilliant lighting.

At the Rogerson Home

Following the ceremony friends of the two families enjoyed the hospitality of the Rogerson home. Receiving with members of the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. George S. Rogerson and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tomlinson.

Here again green dominated the decorations, with the exception of the dining room, where the beautiful center piece was of white narcissi. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Ellen Morris, Mrs. J. L. Henry, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse, Mrs. T. P. Carter and Mrs. W. B. Young. Mr. and Mrs. Vickery catered.

Friends were privileged to see the wedding gifts in one of the upper rooms and they are of a kind to evidence genuine esteem and good will.

Well Known Young People

The bride in this impressive wedding ceremony is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rogerson. All of her days have been spent in this city and the later years were so intimately associated with college life that it was very fitting that the wedding should take place in the college chapel, which has meant so much to her and the groom as well.

Mrs. Tomlinson is a member of Sigma Pi Epsilon society and was prominent and popular during all her student days. Her church connection is with Westminster and all her life has been so ordered that friendships in unusual number have been made and kept.

Mr. Tomlinson, like his bride, is a member of one of Jacksonville's best known families. Their attachment began in the college days, when Mr. Tomlinson was actively identified with athletic and literary affairs of the institution. He is a member of Sigma Pi society and one of the forward figures among the younger workers in State Street Presbyterian church. He is associated with his father in business and is already making an enviable record in mercantile life. So he can rightly be accounted one of those young men who has the full enthusiasm of youth, but at the same time has taken on the stability which comes to some people only in later years.

Following their return from a short wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson are to establish their home at 131 Webster avenue.

Among wedding guests were Mrs. Charles D. Pinckney, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Miss Wilma Vogt, Salem; Miss Helen Taylor, Flora; Miss Marie Thomas, Cedarburg; Miss Geneva Thomas, Pittsfield; Miss Katherine Emery, Hillsboro; Mrs. James Capps, Jr., Toledo.

NEW POSTAL SAVINGS CARDS ARE ISSUED

Will Displace Ten Cent Card Which Has Always Been in Use — System Is Now Twelve Years Old — Deposits Total $162,000,000.

The United States Postal Savings system is today marking its tenth anniversary by issuing a new postal savings card which will displace the 10-cent postal savings card which has been in use since the establishment of the system on January 1, 1911.

The new card will be furnished free of cost and when ten 10-cent postal savings stamps have been affixed to it it will be accepted at any depository office as a deposit of $1 or it may be redeemed in cash. The outstanding feature of the new card is the translation into twenty-four foreign languages of the statement that the faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits made with the system.

The service was first established at forty-eight postoffices, one in each state, on January 1, 1911, and, although hampered by many restrictions as to rate of interest and maximum amount allowed on deposit, it has shown remarkable progress. Postmaster General Burleson announces that the amount of deposit today is more than $162,000,000 and its repositories have long since passed the one-half million mark.

As predicted by its proponents in the days before the passage of the original Postal Savings Act, our foreign-born citizens have been the principal patrons of the system. Taught in their native countries to look to the government to safeguard their savings, they naturally expect this government to do likewise. In the present flood tide of immigration, each newcomer as he leaves the port of entry, receives a leaflet in his own language outlining the method of operation of the United States Postal Savings System and urging upon him the desirability of continuing in this country the practice of thrift which has been so necessary in the country he has just left. The service is, therefore, one of the most potent factors in furthering the Americanization movement.

Many banks, usually savings banks, prior to the establishment of the system felt that the Postal Savings System would be a strong competitor, but experience has shown that the Postal Savings System draws its patrons not from depositories in established and well-conducted banks but from among those who otherwise would not place their money in any banking institution whatever.

The original act of congress restricted the total amount to be placed on deposit at $500 and the deposit of this amount was limited to not more than $100 per month. Later the monthly limitation was entirely removed and the maximum amount increased first to $1,000 and then to the present amount, $2,500. Postmaster General Burleson, in the annual report just submitted to congress recommends increasing the rate of interest to be paid depositors and action by congress will, no doubt, be taken along these lines within the near future.

WILL INTRODUCE NEW STATE POLICE BILL

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 1.—A bill similar to the Dunlap-Castle State police bill which was defeated in the state senate two years ago by Representative Howard P. Castle of Barrington, Ill., is being introduced by Representative Castle in the house. The measure failed in the senate in 1918 by a vote of 31 to 16 and was lost in committee in the house.

Should the measure be acted upon favorably at the coming session, a state police force, to be composed of a superintendent, assistant superintendent, not less than three, nor more than seven troops, each troop to be composed of a captain, two lieutenants, four sergeants, eight corporals and fifty privates, would be created.

The superintendent would be appointed by the governor and would have power to appoint other officers of the force. His salary would be $5,000 per year.

Duties of the force, as defined in Mr. Castle's bill would be to patrol the rural districts and the highways of the state. It would be patterned somewhat after the state police department of Pennsylvania, it was said.

Mr. Castle reported he was thinking also of introducing a bill to create an Illinois Court of Industrial Relations, abolishing the present state public utilities commission.

"I have been much interested in the workings of the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations," Mr. Castle said, "and am thinking seriously of introducing a bill providing for such a court in Illinois."

RARE DISEASE OF CATTLE FOUND IN KANSAS HERD

Strongylosis, a comparatively new disease affecting cattle with fatal results often, was recently discovered in a herd of steers near Manhattan.

Doctors Muldoon and Ackert of the Kansas State Agricultural College in the November issue of the American Veterinary association Journal have described their investigations of the disease and its ravages in this particular herd. It is the first case of the disease known to have occurred in Kansas and the second in the United States.

Of this herd of 84 yearling steers bought in Kansas City it is said that as the disease progressed the visible symptoms were extreme emaciation and anaemia, dropsical swellings under the lower jaw and along the brisket, and sunken eyeballs, the animals also suffering from a profuse watery diarrhea. The animals seemed to retain a good appetite until death, one of the steers dying with his mouth full of foods.

Preventive measures, such as liberal provision of salt for the animal, and a general cleanliness about the feed yard are suggested.

Wednesday, Dec. 29 at 10 a. m. at farm known as James McGinnis farm 6 1-2 miles southeast of city, consisting of horses, grain and farm implements.

OPERA COMPANY EMPLOYEE TRAFFIC DIRECTOR
Chicago—Transportation problems of a big opera company on the road are so complex that the Chicago Opera Association has employed an experienced railroad passenger agent as traffic director. Leaving Chicago about the last week of January, the company will go to New York for several weeks, and then visit most of the principal cities from coast to coast.

E. K. Bixby, for many years a passenger agent of one of the largest roads in the country, is the new traffic manager director. He was loaned to the Democratic National Committee by his company last spring to organize a traffic bureau and superintend the travel of Democratic convention delegates and friends to San Francisco and return.

CO-OPERATION IS GREATLY APPRECIATED

Miss Edith C. Neal Makes Public Acknowledgment of Support—Gives Figures of Work for December.

As yet, there has been no formal acknowledgement of the appreciation of the hearty co-operation of all organizations and individuals in the Christmas plan for giving, but this has not meant it was not greatly appreciated by the office and members of the Board of the Social Service League.

Every effort was made to see that no needy family was overlooked or that there were duplications. Many visits were made to locate various families and there were comparatively few reports of incorrect addresses.

Many cash gifts were received for a coal fund and several tons of coal found its way to coal sheds from this source. Breeden & Dorand gave a dozen or more caps that were tucked into Christmas baskets and later kept "Jack Frost" from biting Sonny's ears. State Street Presbyterian and Centenary Sunday schools contributed generously to the fund with goods, fruits and candies.

In fact the closing of the records of the year 1920 in the history of the Social Service League shows that the spirit of Christmas giving and general accomplishments have been obtained; therefore greater things are possible, greater accomplishments must be achieved in the coming New Year, 1921. No one can know how great the need in our very midst until they go into the homes, come in contact with the lives and learn to know people as do the workers of the Social Service League. Few can give their time to do this, but everyone can give something with their prayer and personal interests and thus carry on the work.

There is a great need for infants' clothing, underwear and shoes. A great need for voluntary car service to assist in investigation and visitation. If some generous heart would but loan or give a car surely his or her reward should be great.

NEGLECTED COLDS ARE DANGEROUS

Doctors advise that a neglected cold is the source of much serious trouble. Colds should be treated at once, for then it is easy to stop them before they develop. Just one application of Turpo, the Turpentine Ointment, gets right through the skin and membrane to the source of the trouble and treats the cold right at the very root, giving immediate relief.

Turpo is a scientific combination of distilled Turpentine, Camphor and Menthol remedies which medical experience shows to be the most effective for the treatment of all kinds of colds and congestion. Turpo is a salve or ointment, clear and pleasant smelling. It does not stain the finest fabric or blister the tenderest skin. When applied it has a soothing, healing effect. It is especially useful for the treatment of children's colds and sore throats. The merits of Turpo are so well known that over 1,500,000 jars are sold annually.

Ask your own doctor about Turpo. He will tell you what a useful remedy it is. Your own druggist sells it on a guarantee of money back if not entirely satisfactory.

Sold in white opal jars with the orange and black label, at 30c and 60c.

IDEAL Hog Waterer
Saves 25%
on Feed For Hogs

Takes the chill off the water the hogs drink. Enables them to put on the same flesh with one-fourth less feed. Cold water chills their stomachs, stops digestion, lowers body temperature. Hogs on cold water have to turn more corn into fuel to keep them warm, make slower growth and yield smaller profits. An Ideal waterer will save this extra feed and save you time and labor chopping ice. Most modern and efficient waterer for every day service ever made.

See This Waterer NOW!

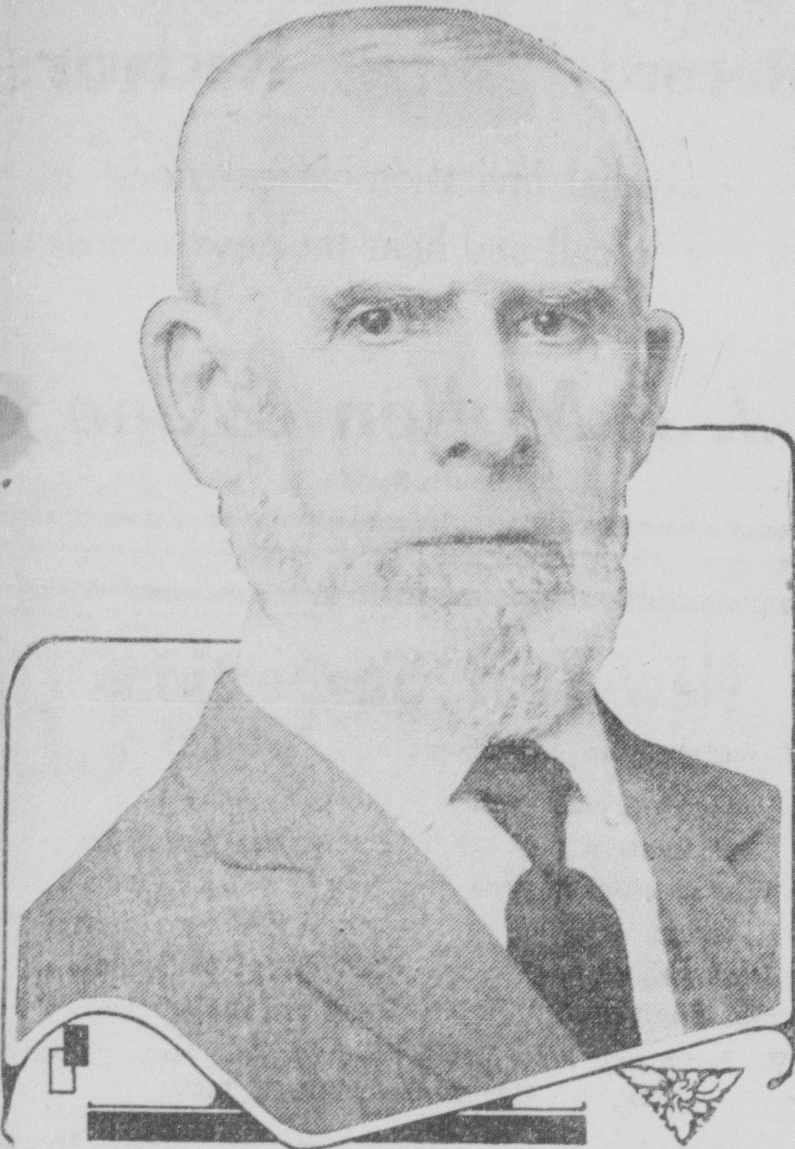

It's made right. Supplies clean water with the chill off when the temperature is 40 below. Made of heavy galvanized steel in sizes to suit all needs. Special lamp heater furnished.

Hogs and corn are real money this year. An Ideal Waterer will make you heavier hogs on less feed. Call and see them next time you're in town.

Quaker Minister is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon, Carthage, Missouri.

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers. He resides at 628 Howard avenue, Carthage, Mo.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties.

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but did not get the relief I had hoped for. Finally, I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble.

"I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief.

"I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers with stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication." Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., Wyle Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly and leading drug stores in all cities. —Adv.

CAMP FUNSTON TO BE THING OF THE PAST

Final Scenes Now Being Enacted In History of Kansas Cantonment — Will Be Deserted by Jan. 15.

Camp Funston, Kan., Jan. 1.—With the fading of the year in final scenes are being enacted in the history of this cantonment. Thru this camp 450,000 Americans passed in the process of training for the world war and here Major General Leonard Wood labored while three complete divisions were whipped into shape to face the foes of democracy.

Abandonment and dismantling of the cantonment under recent orders of the war department probably will mean also the turning of Army City, a civilian municipality on its border, into a deserted village.

45,000 Men in Training. In the summer of 1918 there were as many as 45,000 men in training here at one time but when the order to vacate was received 3,900 officers and enlisted men of the seventh division were stationed here. These are being sent to Camp Meade, Md., with the exception of the Eighth Field Artillery, which is going to Hawaii and the divisional tank corps which is destined for Camp Pike, Ark.

Officers here said today that the camp will be deserted by all except a few hundred caretakers by Jan. 15 of the new year.

In case the war department order is carried out to the letter, the "junking" of the property, camp officers say, will mean the dismantling and removal of 1,215 buildings of all descriptions, built at an outlay of approximately $15,000,000. Kansas representatives in congress have presented to the War Department numerous protests from Kansas organizations against this program. This state is particularly concerned in the "Kansas Building," built with $30,000 raised on popular subscription and used as a "community center" by soldiers and visiting relatives.

Established in 1917, Camp Funston, occupying 806 of the 40,000 acres in the Fort Riley government reservation, was established early in 1917 and the building plans inaugurated in June of that year. The first troops moved in the following September. It was first a training camp then a demobilization center and of late the station of the Seventh Division.

General Wood was the first commandant. Under his supervision the 89th division was trained in four months, going overseas in May of 1918. General Wood then was returned to Funston and trained a new division—the Tenth—which was ready to go when the armistice was signed. Prior to the assembling of the 89th, Maj. Gen. J. G. Winn, then took the Nineteenth division overseas from this camp late in 1917.

Army City represented an outlay in buildings alone of several hundred thousand dollars. Its sole patronage was the Camp Funston soldiers and during the war period it boasted "the largest pool hall, the largest barber shop and the largest laundry in the United States." It also had theaters, stores, cafes, dance halls and churches. With the dwindling of the camp population the town's business has been reduced accordingly.

PREPAREDNESS THE RAGE IN FARMING COMMUNITIES

By some this is thought to be the beginning of the era of co-operation in American agriculture. If it is it will mean that in the future the farmer will not be caught so unprepared as he nearly always has been when hard times have struck. Farmers have shared the common characteristics of the American people. When difficulties are upon us we get busy and support the organizations working in our interests but when prosperous times come we forget and go in the same old individual way. There are some very hopeful indications that the present movement among the farmers of the country will not share the fate of so many of the earlier attempts to organize the farmers. The organizations now forming under the auspices of the Farm Bureau are certainly in far more capable hands than were so many of the former ones.

Some of the most difficult problems of the day are economic ones and they demand study, therefore, farmers should support their organization in good times or in bad if they would be prepared.

In this connection it is well to note that the Committee of Seventeen of the American Farm Bureau Fed., after three months of rather intensive study, has decided on a few steps of an ultimate program which it will recommend. These steps which have been so carefully thought out are: The establishment of farmer owned elevator companies and sale agencies to co-operate on the local and terminal markets of the United States, the establishment of our own export companies and sales agencies to operate on foreign markets for the purpose of handling the surplus we export. These two recommendations mean that farmers should do their own marketing of grain with their own machinery rather than leave it to other agencies.

Farmers in this and adjoining States have formed some highly efficient organizations and it does seem that they will do very well if they heartily and unreservedly support these representatives of their and to the end that some lasting results may be obtained.

FARMERS WILL ASK FOR SEVERAL LAWS

Foremost Is One For Organizing a State Constabulary—Also Want Farm Tenancy Law.

By Associated Press. Springfield, Ill., Jan. 1.—Foremost among legislation many farmers of Illinois will ask of the general assembly meeting here January 5, it is evident are a state constabulary, farm tenancy legislation and amendments to the law for co-operative associations.

Farmers were divided over the question of a constabulary at the last session and it was defeated. Since then, due to the many small town bank robberies and the menace of crime to the country developed by the increase of hard roads, the farmers generally are said to approve a constabulary.

Tenancy legislation is likely to be influenced by the report of the Illinois Farm Commission authorized by the last legislature and appointed by Gov. Lowden to investigate it thoroughly and recommend legislation for the farm.

Reimbursement of farm tenants for improvement of land such as phosphate or limestone treatment, seed clover sowing and land clearing, which was proposed last session and laid aside when the farm commission was appointed, will be the subject of another "tenant's rights" proposal to be offered by Senator Clayton C. Pervier of Sheffield in Bureau county.

Another bill for relief of the tenant situation will be presented by Senator Harry M. Dunlap of Savoy in Champaign county. This bill would make possible the securing of money for land purchases under better conditions than now possible. It would authorize incorporation of associations to loan money on first and second mortgages over long periods of years and on the amortized plan of payment. This bill will be similar to the building and loan association act.

Restriction of speculation in farm lands is also urged. In the assumption that farm land sold soon after purchase was obtained for speculative purposes, a proposal to impose a tax of one percent on all land transfers made within one year of a previous sale.

is reported to have support from members to existing laws regulating co-operative associations, to provide special legislation for non-profit, non-capital such as farmers' marketing associations, are said to be regarded by farmers as necessary to the success of the co-operative movement in Illinois. Present laws, it is said, satisfy co-operative societies supported by union labor but fall short of the farmers' needs.

WISCONSIN DARK HORSE IN RACE

Badgers Looked Upon as Probable Winners of Conference Basketball Honors — Conference Schedule.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—With the opening of the Western Conference championship basketball season Monday, the quietest representing the University of Wisconsin looms up tonight as the real "dark horse" of the 1921 race.

The Badgers are pinning their championship hopes on W. E. Meanwell, basketball coach, whose ability to develop fighters on teams out of ordinary material is recognized throughout the "Big Ten." In six years, from 1911 to 1916, Coach Meanwell turned out four championship teams for Wisconsin. There has been a scarcity of seasoned material in the Badger camp, however, Capt. Taylor at forward being the only outstanding player.

The brilliant Purdue five, which finished close to Chicago in the race last season, will enter the field without with greatest as a high powered scoring combination. Tillson, Church and Campbell have graduated, leaving Capt. White, a brilliant running guard, and Miller, a back guard, as the nucleus for this season's team.

In the last five years, no team in the "Big Ten" has won the title two years in succession, and if the race develops into a tight struggle this season, and recent tradition is repeated, the championship will go by Chicago last season will fall to another contender in the 1921 campaign.

Wisconsin will take the field against Northwestern at Evanston Monday in the only game scheduled. The other teams will not swing into the race until next Saturday, when two games to be decided, bringing together Indiana and Ohio and Wisconsin and

GERMAN FIGHTERS GET LAUREL WREATHS

Fights in That Country Social Affairs — Referee Explains Blows Between Rounds.

Berlin, Jan. 1.—Professional prize-fighting and wrestling introduced into Germany since the war, have won wide popularity and are looked upon as social functions as well as an amusement. Men and women who occupy the highest priced seats appear in formal evening dress, although the management may not prescribe such attire.

The development of the sport has been troubled with some perplexing incidents, for the German public, unaccustomed to "box-fighting," apparently has been unable to decide what its proper attitude should be on such occasions. Cheering, applauding with the hands, or any "rooting" or "ragging" is in high disfavor. At the first sign of approval from supporters of a boxer, sections of the audience rise and hiss the "rooter" down. The patrons insist everything should be perfectly quiet.

When a fighter is crowned with a laurel wreath, or a wreath of roses, or presented with a big bouquet, and proclaimed a victor it is quite proper to applaud, decorously. Admirers of the winner shower him with bunches of flowers, and the referee makes a speech acclaiming the prowess of the fighter, as well as explaining just how he won the victory. An effort is made to adhere to the American description of blows and maneuvers. Frequently at the end of a round, when the boxer has got in a telling stroke, the referee harangues the audience with a description of the blow and what its effect was intended to be.

A number of fairly well advertised foreign fighters have appeared here, but these "principlal" events are always preceded by preliminaries between German boxers. The Germans are not yet masters of the technique of the game but their ability to take punishment is beyond question. In one preliminary bout the correspondent saw a German boxer knock down his opponent twice in one round and before the close of the round he himself was twice felled. There were seven knock-downs in five rounds in this contest, and both fighters were badly battered. Thru the whole bout the crowd was silent but applauded the victor who, the referee announced, had won on points. Each fighter was presented with a big bunch of roses.

The principal event of this occasion was a fight between an English and a Turkish heavyweight. It was announced the fight would go 15 rounds but after a few rounds the referee made a speech to the fighters from the ring in which he said in his opinion there was too much jumping and dodging around and unless they got down to fighting in earnest he would stop the match. At the end of the fourteenth round the referee held a conference with the promoters and officials of the Professional Box Fighters' association and announced it had been decided to stop the fight. He said it had been agreed it was a frame up, and that the boxers would be disqualified from fighting again, would be expelled from the association and would not be paid for this fight. The crowd applauded and the boxers left the house.

Later one of the fighters brought action against the boxing association for damages and reinstatement. His counsel, in a brief in which he explained at length the principals of prize-fighting declared these men were both "defensive" and not offensive fighters, that each had awaited for the other to take the offensive and neither having done so there wasn't much of a fight.

I have reopened my garage and have a first class mechanic in charge; am prepared to do all kinds of repairing and electrical work.

PROTEST TOBACCO SALES TO MINORS

There has been several appeals made to merchants from different sources asking that they observe the statute pertaining to tobacco and cigarettes. It seems many do not know the law requires a written order from parent or guardian before a minor can buy the weed. Many are thus defying the law whether knowingly or unintentionally, yet ignorance can not, nor does not free one from the offense.

The article pertaining to tobacco is as follows: "Sale of tobacco to minors—it is unlawful to sell, buy for or furnish any cigarette or tobacco in any form, to any minor under 16 years of age, unless upon a written order of parent or guardian. Penalty fine of $20 for each and every offense."
